“ *Ashlee was an amazing artist. He would sit and draw or paint for hours. His attention to detail was exemplary. Perfection would and did take more than one page at times... Eraser marks was a no no!
I miss you sitting at your desk doing what you did best.
You are missed more today than the day you physically left us my Baby! 😞*

*Oh my Baby! So long without you and still so much sorrow and grief!
But I keep pressing on, because I feel it's what you would want me to do, and there are still my loves walking on this earth.
I get out in my flowers, and remenese about us talking. I really miss those days Ashlee... I really truly do!
I will always love you Baby!!*

*Hey My Baby, here another Christmas is upon us and you still ain't here. I cannot bring it upon myself to let you freely go. My heart will always be broken just because your physical nobody ain' here.
I know you're here with us in Spirit, but that don't let us talk with you or give you a hug and kiss.
Hunter says that half of him is gone, and that would be you My Baby. No one will ever know or understand Hunter like you do Ashlee. Y'all are two different people, but one egg. You've always been told that.
Me and your Daddy still ain't sure what to do. It's like we can't continue to keep living because a major part of us is missing.
You are always on our minds and always in our shattered hearts. We love you unconditionally Ashlee...

Time has stopped. You are physically no longer with me... There are no words for how much you are both loved and missed my Baby

Last year was so tough! This year is not starting out much better. Thanksgiving, Christmas, and the New Year, just brought reminders that you are physically not here. There are still no words to express how much you are both loved and missed. I feel very little and have no want to do anything Ashlee. My heart is so shattered.
