“ *"This robe of flesh I'll drop and rise to seize the ever-lasting prize."
We were with Uncle Cecil the night he made the best investment of his life in trusting the finished work of Christ. He's walking the street of Glory pain free, and seeing his Saviour and family/friends with two eyes!
"How beautiful Heaven must be! The home of the happy and free.
Fair haven of rest for the weary ~ how beautiful Heaven must be."
"We'll never say goodbye in Glory- in the morning, over yonder.
We'll never say goodbye in Glory...we'll never say goodbye up there!"

“ I am a lucky lady to have had Cecil Clay Spears as my father inlaw. He was a strong man and led with his tough exterior but those that knew him well knew that he also had a tender side. He was absolutely overjoyed by the birth of his grandson. It was wonderful to witness granddaddy Cecil & George Clayton's incredible bond.

I am also grateful for our time spent together. Cecil was in the cattle business for many years. A few years ago I had the pleasure of helping him with his last herd for a few months. It was an experience I will never forget. He was amazing to watch with them. While in his care they were shown much compassion. He called them his girls and greeted them with a "hey girl" every time he was out in the field. They respected him and with a simple motion of his hand they would understand and follow his orders. It was an awesome sight to see.

Thank you for everything sir. We love you and you will live on forever in our hearts 🙏❤️🙏

“ Uncle Cecil showed up in my life so many times not only as an uncle but also as a grandfather and even father with his guidance, humor, and handups (vs handouts). He taught me the value of hard work as a kid working in the seafood market. I carry with me his humor, stubborn approach to "how things should be done," and so many stories. I am happy he is no longer in pain and with my dear cousins, Hunter B. and Brian, once again. His legacy lives on in all the family he leaves behind. Rest in peace, Dear Uncle. You will never be forgotten.

“ Grief brings us to the point of realizing the vastness of our love, and of God’s love for us. It’s hard to lose loved ones, but God sees us through. I pray for peace and comfort for the family in Jesus’ name.
