“Cliff was an awesome guy, I lost my dad in 2002, and he was like a dad to me, even when I divorced Mike, my favorite thing was when he would hold Renee in one arm (or set her down next to him) and play the guitar until she fell asleep, she loves her pawpaw, and lets not kid ourselves, pawpaw was her #1, when she was sad, she would tell me "I wish pawpaw could be here, and I'd tell her "honey, if pawpaw could be here, he'd be here." We'd talk about him coming up the highway rolling his wheelchair yelling "PawPaw's coming babygirl." That always put a smile on her face, I think his #1's were his three grandbabies. Now, when they think of him, I hope they remember the smiles and how he loved them.

“Oh my sweet Cliffy. We've been through a lot. You were there for me when life tried to get the best of me. Always making me laugh and showing me the brighter side of things. I remember when you met your sweet wife and when all those boys arrived. What a life! I'm so sorry we lost touch the last few years. I never stopped loving you. Say hi to my Mom. I know she and Granny were glad to see you. Until we meet again. I love you “Cliff was like my second dad he taught me many things such as how to keep my timing while playing Eric claptons wonderful tonight on guitar. Cliff (dad) always had a smile on his face that was so intoxicating you couldn't help but smile back, even when he was mad like when me and Matt were caught “hot dogging” the truck he still had that smile. God bless you dad we love you and always will enjoy picking and grinning with daddy y'all play a good one for us down here love you. Mom my god bless you and the family and heal your hearts during this time of grieving I love you all.

“Clifton was a great person and a wonderful brother and loved all his family alot. and would do anything for anyone if he could and even if he couldn't he would atleast try too, But BoYy! He loved to let you know that he stood his grounds on what he thaught was right or wrong, Cause he was right even if he wasn't right he was going to be anyways! And that was all it was to it 'oh, yes! And he and i would both but heads but most the time i'ed just give up and let him alone and let him be right, Because he and i both are kinda the same. But he was a little more head stronger minded about it then i am..But he was still a wonder person and will be loved and missed dearly.. I WILL LOVE & MISS YOU ALWAYS MY DEAR BROTHER. So R.I,P Now.. Cause i know your in Heaven.
