

Ernest "Ernie" Elvin Vance

May 13, 1942 - January 26, 2017

Was a longtime resident of Crawfordville. His greatest joy was Marsha, his wife, he loved her and would do anything to make her happy. She gave his life meaning and he knew she was always the best thing that ever happened to him. His family meant everything to him. Taylor his daughter/granddaughter was the light of his life, they had such a special connection, and she captured precious moments that will ensure Ernie will live on forever in her heart. Ernie loved to fish, especially the Wakulla & Ochlockonee Rivers. He enjoyed spending time with his good friends, and sharing the real meaning of "Living, Loving & Laughing". He began working for Colonial Life Insurance Company, 40 years ago and remains an independent contractor. He played an instrumental role in building Colonial Life business in the State of Florida. He often spoke about how blessed he was to wake up every morning and go do the thing he loved...representing a great company and working with people that were more than business associates, they were good friends, including a loving brother Donnie Vance. “ Ernie was my old buddy. He gave me a chance to work with Colonial at a time when I really needed a job,as things were not going well for me at that time. I have never forgotten that and told him so a few times. He always kind of played it down and said I made him a lot of money...lol. He had a dry sense of humor and could be a little tough at times. But I had a dad who was just like him so I was use to that gruffness and we always got along just fine. I will miss my friend Ernie. He was a great guy and a great manager with Colonial too. See you in heaven ol buddy!
