I sat here and cried as I watched the pictures. I remember him being a gentle soul and never heard a harsh word spoken from him. He showed us places we would have never gotten to see. Like Florida for the first time when we moved down. They were both second parents to me. I loved him too. I miss them all and wish they were here still. My heart is with you Louise and wish I could be there in person but know my spirit will be there. Love all. Pauline Wallace
