“ Posting in lieu of Chris Elder:
I'll remember George well and have tremendous respect always. I still have rig managers asking me how George is doing. Always upbeat, witty, funny, smart, class act always. Great technician was just a bonus. I was always surprised that a certified A&P mechanic could be so good at instrumentation. He was one of a kind in that respect. I always told him I'd get him more money as a mechanic but he declined because he liked his job and the people he worked with. He took pride in his work and it showed. He loved you and his family more than anything. I remember how happy he was when you visited him while he was working. He beamed about his son enlisting and following his dreams. I remember the last slow down having to lay off several rotating techs and George knew and submitted his notice. I told him I could get him a severance package if he would rotate once or twice more. He declined saying his decision was final and he'd rather stay home with his family. I never heard him say a bad word about anyone and obviously never heard a bad word about him. That was George in a nutshell. I'll miss him

“ George was a great friend to my husband and me. His great sense of humor and kind, generous, serving heart was such a blessing to us over the years. He was always willing to lend a hand anywhere and anytime possible. His knowledge about everything 'house' was shared with us as he worked on many projects. George was patient with my husband, always giving time for him to catch on and catch up!

Debbie and George were great together, whether he was working thousands of miles away or at the house. They're both witty and cherished each other. It showed in their compassion, speech, and touch. George loved and wanted to be with his bride, and she was there lovingly by his side.

Our prayers and thoughts are with the whole family, as we grieve with you and for you.

You are all so loved by the Lord Jesus, and I pray you will sense His presence, comfort, and most of all His overwhelming love through this difficult time.

“ I met George Morris about twenty years ago when he and Debbie brought into the youth organization I ran. As we watched Jonathon grow we had many conversations and bounced ideas off of each other. As Jonathon matured George was able to relax somewhat. George was always pleasant and helpful. George is the type of man which this country needs in order to live in peace and tranquility.

We will miss him.
