“ We just recently found out that you passed on into God's hands. We are heartbroken. We were in Atlanta March and April with my mother who was passing away, and did pass away on April 6th. During that stay Mike had to have emergency surgery and we were unable to come home until the end of May. This year, actually for the past year and a half, I have not been on FaceBook because of me being sick and Mike has had so many surgeries and I have been overwhelmed with taking care of him. The only messages from FaceBook I would get would be someone sending something to through "messenger" on my phone. Janice, I know you can't hear me ... or maybe you can ... I love you so dearly and miss you so very much. Mike and I had been talking about how we needed to come see y'all but we haven't been seeing anyone because of being so sick. When I recently got the news, I couldn't stop crying and felt horrible that I had not gotten to see you. The only comfort I got was that I know you are with Jesus and you are no longer in pain. I will always miss you my little sis until we meet again, and we will always love you.

“ Janice is going to be greatly missed. I grew up hanging around their house & helping Bub work on cars & going fishing with them both. She was always like a second mama to me. They have always been great, wonderful people in my life. May God bless Bub & all family members.

Forever in our hearts,
Howard & Sandy Taylor & our two sons

“ My parents and I lived next door to Janice and her parents when she was an infant, for a short time. Even though miles separated us later, it was good to see her at family reunions at Thomaston and to be friends on Facebook recently. Tom and I are very sorry to hear she passed away, but happy to know she is celebrating with Jesus and cancer no longer has a grip on her. Thank you all for hosting the reunion last weekend. It was good to see all your families.
