“ Jess I’m gonna miss you so much. I love your sassy ness, your amazing sense of humor and mostly the way you’d get mad at me, but it would be over in 30 minutes. That was you. Rest In Peace and I’ll see ya when I get there.

Just recently you were assisting me in connecting with someone to help me to obtain my HS transcript. You jumped right in to help others without question. “ *I am so sorry to read the sad news of Jessica's passing. Stella my heart knows the pain and sorrow you are experiencing at this time. Look to God for His peace and comfort at this time. To all the sisters, remember the happy times with her. I remember the good times of helping coach her in softball and the good player she was. I will always love you aunt jessica, I can't believe this happened I'm still in disbelief, I may be the only one not there but I wish things were different. You understand, you always did with that look you'd give me down into my soul. One of the only women who wasn't scared of anything and would look (down at most people she was a tall women) straight into anyones eyes and never second guessed herself. One of the realest people I had the blessing of being a part of the village that raised me. God rest your soul.
