“ Praise Lord please be with his children and family. Joey was a outstanding mechanic. Didn't matter where we broke down Joey the fast mechanic was always there to rescue. Joey was a close friend. We'd tease each other about who's car was the fastest. Joey has had his share of fastest automobiles. Funny thing is we never raced our cars bc there was nothing to prove. Joey and I talked about the deadly wrecks he had seen when on the job towing vehicles. He always said the most thing in this world that he loved with all his heart was his children and grandkids. When Joey and I were in our early 20's that's when you find yourself young and dare devilish he called me up and said he was fixing to race Pasco Pope title for title luckily I was able to stop him on that race. When Joey got his Mustang he was at Coon Bottom where the racing was title. At that time Joey didn't know I had just got my 5.0 off showroom floor. He lined up the too of the hill with a girlfriend of mine had a older model 455 engine white and blue TA. I didn't know at the time it was Joey up on the hill. Needless to say my gf beat Joey and he walked over to where we were at and to mine and his surprise (like what you doing here) he handed my gf his title and asked me if I'd give him a lift home? After I gave him the lecture my gf handed Joey back the title to his car. Joey was always good for his word. And I said what if you'd got in a wreck? He just wiped his tears and said (I thank you mam). And so about 10 cars from Wakulla lined up and headed to the county. Friends come dime a dozen. But a true friendship no matter what is real hard to fond. Joey was like a big brother I never had. Always felt safe when Joey was around. He will be missed so much. I can't believe it Lord Jesus we love you pal forever.

I am completely heart broken. I grew up looking at Joey as Bubba Joey...my "big brother". I loved him and always enjoyed that big smile and big hug. Even grown I always knew when he drove by...if he didn't stop he blew the horn and revved the engine. I'm sure going to miss him.
