He was preceded in death by his beloved wife of 54 years, Joyce Ann Davison; his parents, Gurman and Gladys Davison; two brothers, Noah Wesley Davison and James Davison; one sister, Frances Stuber; his son-in-law, Jimmy Taylor; and a grandson, Clayton Taylor.

Leo is survived by his son, John Davison (Patricia); daughter, Cindie Taylor; his sister, Maxine Miller; five grandchildren, Misty, Tony, Jason, Erica, and Toni; one great-grandchild, Kayla; and one great-great-grandchild, Jace.

“ I caught my first fish with Grandpa Leo when I was 3, my oldest daughter caught her first fish with him and my youngest daughters first lake trip was with him. Safe to say my favorite and most of my best memories with him revolved around the lake life which I know was his favorite as well. I will cherish those memories forever.

“ Lots of great memories of uncle Leo, from flying to visiting in Spearville and north of Amarillo at Davison Drive, to family reunions in Missouri. Was always really attracted to your calm and peaceful demeanor. I always looked up to you. RIP uncle Leo.

“ The memory I think of first, is when Leo took me, Rohn and Noah Wayne on an airplane flight! We were in Holly Co. First time to Ever fly, We were so excited!!! Noah and I were very young if I had to guess, 10. It was a very special time we shared with Leo, that obviously have never forgotten. There were also fishing trips, and a family reunion way down in Kimberling Mo. I loved Leos' smile! He I remember some housing he built in Lamar. I remember just north of Lamar where they all lived. Well, wish we all could have stayed closer together and shared even more with fishing trips... Leo was a good man, may he forever rest in peace. Rohn
