Tribute Wall

“ He cut my driveway and shed out of a large water oak that fell on it during Hurricane Michael. I was scared when I called him after the storm. He came by early the next morning and set a time for that afternoon. It was a delicate operation, as he could not allow the fallen oak to wiggle, or it would have hurt my shed. I used to see him in his truck periodically: he always had such a cheerful smile. Condolences to all his family and friends.
