“ I am so lucky to have called you my dad. I have a lot of great memories with you and our family, some of my favorites are from my childhood. You taught me how to throw a football, and would practice my back-flips with me for gymnastics. I remember washing your big old suburban on Saturdays and climbing up on the roof even though my feet turned orange lol. I remember playing t-ball on Sundays with you, mom and the neighborhood kids and getting ice cream from the ice cream truck after. I remember all of our family camping trips and will always cherish those. I happy that my babies, your grandchildren had the time they did with you, but of course I wish it could have been a little longer. We all loved you so very much and miss you dearly. Rest easy daddy, until I see you again. Love you always, Jennifer
