“ I'm really hurting and going to miss my cousin Stacy so very much... you may have left this world but your love lives on eternally and you're unrepeatable and irreplaceable... I'm thankful to God we reconnected years ago, got caught up on life, visit and share stories of faith. Each conversation always began with an update on your children and your unending great love for them. Your love for family and friends was enormous and you were a light, a true treasure. In the craziness of this world, you additionally always found the positive and magnified it... Until we meet up again, I love you forever and give my love to our fathers and may your soul rest in such great Heavenly loving peace...
