Mrs. Wanda was such a beautiful soul. She loved her family and always loved the extra kids that hung around. Mrs. Wanda knew everyone and always kept up with her kids (way better than a GPS). When Carolyn and a bunch of us girls (high school) decided we were going to camp out. Well, we all told our parents we were staying at one another's house. That night we went to see Lou at the hospital (we wanted to include her). Well when we got to her room, the phone rang. Of course, it was Mrs. Wanda She asked to speak to Carolyn. Mrs. Wanda: Carolyn I know what you girls are doing. Carolyn: mama what are you talking about we are visiting Lou. Mrs. Wanda: I talked to everyone's mom so when you leave the hospital you girls better get home. Of course we all went home. I love you Mrs. Wanda and I am blessed to be a part of your family. Thank you for always being so sweet and loving to me! Rest and Peace and let me know how it is there in heaven!

“ Every year I would get a phone call from Wanda telling me that she was about to order pecans. That would lead to about a 40 minute catching up with what had been going on in our lives. We continued intermittent contact with each other until the pecan season was over. I loved sitting with her on the breezeway - never running out of something to talk about. I truly loved her and will think of her fondly.

I Am really finding it hard to express my loss. My heart is aching !! Miss Wanda as I affectionately called her ,was my big sister . I always felt welcomed in her home . She really was everything you'd want in a good friend . Loyal ,loving, truthful , generous, funny and resourceful . Unselfish and most of all a real genuine Christian who loved Jesus .I will cherish her love and friendship as long as I live. I look forward to the day I will see her again . We will meet by the feet of Jesus and never ever have to part again . Goodnight for now Miss Wanda ,I will see you in the morning 😭 !
